Mechanism to ensure the proper implementation of Programme Project Report (PPR)

In accordance with the UGC's regulations (ODL Programmes and Online Programmes) Regulations, 2020, the following Key mechanisms are used to ensure the proper implementation of Programme Project Report (PPR)-

1. Admission, tuition fee and concession to various groups are approved by university authority and implemented time to time.
2. The developed e-content undergoes a structured process of assessment and review to ensure its overall quality, accuracy, and relevance to the prescribed course material. Each e-content is carefully examined to confirm its correctness, consistency, and alignment with the intended course outcomes. Based on the feedback and recommendations provided by the e- Content Review and Approval Committee (e-CRAC), necessary revisions are incorporated before finalization. Once approved, the validated e-content is uploaded on the Learning Management System (LMS). To further support accessibility and smooth functioning, the University has appointed dedicated technical assistants for managing and facilitating the use of e-content.
3. e-SLM is developed by subject experts and its editing process is implemented successfully before uploading on LMS with printable form.
4. Question paper setting and assessment workshop is conducted for proper implementation of evaluation structure approved by University authority.
5. Conduct of exam and declaration of results are scheduled as per university norms.
6. University has industry-interaction cell which conducts programme to enhance the employment and earnability of leaners.
